The heat of opposition which had subsided upon the repeal of the former impost was now revived, with additional ardour, by the same principle driven from the soil; they had not yet heard exhibited in its new form. A disposition for battle was soon made on both sides, and powder and ball were to decide the hazardous and doubtful contest. The regulators, although a brave and hardy people, were nevertheles very deficient in pol ticians to direct their course and skilful officers to lead them into battle, and knew but lit tle of Military discipline and tacticks, and Herman Husbands, before mentioned, who was nothing at home but a plain farmer, was their Commander-in-Chief; whilst Col. Butler, a brave man and the most capable perhaps of the two, was the second in command. The battle commenced and was conducted with spirit on both sides, while the issue was for some time doubtful. At last disorder which which I offer at from 6 to 10 cents per yard. A was to have been expected found its way into the ranks of the Regulators. Nor was this ell. all. The cannon of the royal army played incessantly upon them and did great execution, not one man among them in all probability artillery before. This created a panick, which terribly increased their confusion and a retreat or rather a flight ensued. Many were killed and wounded, and many more were made prisoners; among them was Col. Butler and several other leading characters; but Herman Husbands made his escape, and fled to the back part of Pennsylvania, from whence he ver more seen there. But his influence was and PORK. not lost. He soon became a member of the Legislature of his native State [and so continued] for many years and afterwards it is believed was a delegate to Congress. Governor Tryon, after his victory, held a court martial for the trial of his prisoners and by martial law hanged on a gibbet six of the most obnoxious characters, among them. Col. Butler issued his proclamation requiring those who fled as well as those who remained on the ground and were captured, to repair to the royal Standard, and take the oath of allegiance to his majesty or suffer the penalty of death for treason and have their estates confiscated. This requisition was pretty generally complied with, and among those who made their appearance for that purpose was included the noted Col. Pyle of Orange or Chatham, and of whom I shall have occasion to speak hereafter. And these people generally remained faithful afterwards to the royal cause, and were a severe annoyance of the good people of North Carolina during the period of our Revolutionary struggle.

Tryon, after this victory, having forced the submission of these impatient and deluded men, and having re-established the civil authority in Hillsborough and other places, where it had been resisted, marched back to the low country and discharged them. Such was the eclat England, that in the course of the year 1771, or the beginning of the next, he was translated by the Ministry from the Government of his salary was doubled, if not trebled. In summer of 1779, he was despatched from the chief of the British forces, upon an expedition to Connecticut, "accompanied by a numerous force, and escorted by Admiral Collier; he landed at East Haven, then visited New Haven, Fairfield and Norwalk : in each of which places he exhibited the most barbarous scenes of plunder and conflagration, insult and de vastation-no object being too valuable, none too contemptible, to save it from his destructive ted with revenge and plunder, the expedition returned to New York, crowned with the laurels of a marauder and an incendiary.

CAUTION EXTRA A man by the name of CLAPP has engaged with a roung man of the name of S. P. Townsend, and uses his name to put up a Sarsaparilla, which they call Dr. Townsend's Sarsaparilla, denominating it GENUINE, Original, etc. This Townsend is no doctor, and never was; but was formerly a worker on railroads, canals, and the like. Yet he assumes the title of Dr., for the purpose of gaining credit for what he is not. This is to caution the public not to be deceived, and purchase none but the GENUINE ORIGI-MAL OLD Dr. Jacob Townsend's Sarsaparilla, having on It the Old Dr's. likeness, his family coat of arms, and his signature across the coat of arms.

OLD DR. JACOB TOWNSEND, THE ORIGINAL DISCOVERER OF THE

Genuine Townsend Sarsaparilla. Old Dr. Townsend is now about 70 years of age, and has ong been known as the AUTHOR and DISCOVERER of the GENUINE ORIGINAL "TOWNSEND SAR-SAPARILLA." Being poor, he was compelled to limit its manufacture, by which means it has been kept out of market, and the sales circumscribed to those only who had proved its worth, and known its value. It had reached the ears of many, nevertheless, as those persons who had been healed of sore diseases, and saved from death, proclaimed its excellence and won-

HEALING POWER.

Knowing, many years ago, that he had, by his skill, idence and experience, devised an article which would be of incalculable advantage to mankind when the means would be furnished to bring it into universal notice, when in inestimable virtues would be known and apprecia This time has come, the means are supplied; this GRAND AND UNEQUALLED PREPARATION is manufactured on the largest scale, and is called for throughout the length and breadth of the land, especially as it is found incapable of degeneration or deterioration.
Unlike young S. P. Townsend's, it improves with age, and never changes, but for the better: because it is prepared on scientific principles by a scientific man. The highest knowledge of Chemistry, and the latest discoveries of the art, have all been brought into requisition in the manufacture of the Old Dr's Sarsay arilla. The Sarsaparilla root, it is well known to medical men, contains many medicinal properties, and some properties which are inert or useless, and others, which it retained in preparing it for use, produce fermentation and acid, which is injurious to the system. Some of the properties of Sarsaparilla are so volatile, that they entirely evaporate and are lost in the preparation, if they are not preserved by a scientific process, known only to those experienced in its manufacture. Moreover, these colatile principles, which fly off in vapor, or as an exhalation, under heat, are the very essential medical properties of the root, which give to it all its value. Any person can boil or stew the root till they get a dark colored liquid, which is more from the coloring matter in he root than from any thing else; they can then strain his Insipid or vapid fiquid, sweeten with some molasses and then call it "SARSAPARILLA EXTRACT or SY RUP." But such is not the stricle known as the GENUINE OLD DR. JACOB TOWNSEND'S SARSAPARILLA. This is so prepared, that all the mert properties of the arsaparilla root are first removed, every taing capable e

then every particle of medical virtue is secured in a pure and concentrated form; and thus it is rendered incapable of in this way, it is made the most nowerful agent in the Cure of innumerable diseases. Hence the reason why we hear commendations on every side in its favor by men, women, and children. We find it sing wonders in the cure of

> SOURING, FERMENTING, ACID "COM-POUND" OF S. P. TOWNSEND, and yet he would fain have it understood that Old Dr. Jacob Pownsend's Genuine Original Sarsaparilla, is an IMITA-PION of his inferior preparation?! Heaven forbid that we should deal in an article which would bear the most distant resemblance to S. P. Town-send's article! and which should bring down upon the Old Dr. such a mountain load of complaints and crimination We wish it understood, because it is the absolute truth, that S. P. Townsend's article and Old Dr. Jacob Townof iron et quinine, soluble citrate of iron, valerinate send's Sarsaparilla are heaven-wide apart, and infinitely dis-of zinc, sulph morphine, act. do, salacine, iod. of similar; that they are unlike in every particular, having not one single thing in common.

As S. P. Townsend is no doctor, and never was, is no chemist, no pharmaceutist—knows no more of medicine or disease than any other common, unscientific, unprofessional ceiving a genuine scientific medicine, containing all the virtues of the articles used in preparing it, and which are is capable of changes which might render them the AGENTS of Disease instead of health. But what else should be expected from one who knows nothing comparatively of medicine or disease! It requires

WEAK STOMACHS AND ENFEEBLED SYSTEMS, should know well the medical properties of plants, the best manner of securing and concentrating their healing virtues, also an extensive knowledge of the various diseases which affect the human system, and how to adapt remedies to these diseases ! It is to arrest frauds upon the unfortunate, to pour balm into wounded humanity, to kindle hope in the despairing bosom, to restore health and bloom, and vigor into the crushed and broken, and to banish infirmity that OLD DR. JACOB TOWNSEND has SOUGHT and FOUND the opportunity and means to bring his Grand Universal Concentrated Remedy within the reach, and to the knowledge of all who seed that they may learn and know, by joyful experience Transcendent Power to Heal. PERFUMERY, AND FANCY ARTICLES.
